

RESOLUTION OF THE CITY OF GLOUCESTER CITY

County of Camden, State of New Jersey

#R 059-2016

RESOLUTION THAT THE NEW JERSEY DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION PRESERVE THE HUGG-HARRISON-GLOVER HOUSE, 515 WEST BROWNING ROAD, BELLMAWR, NEW JERSEY

WHEREAS, the Hugg-Harrison-Glover House was the home of William Harrison, Captain of the Gloucester Town Militia Company, 2nd Battalion, Gloucester County Militia; and

WHEREAS, Captain Harrison's lands stretched from the King's Highway to south of West Browning Road; and

WHEREAS, 22 October 1777, Hessian soldiers marching to attack Fort Mercer at Red Bank bypassed a militia-dismantled bridge by crossing Little Timber Creek on Captain Harrison's mill dam; and

WHEREAS, Captain Harrison fought in the Battle Gloucester (also known as the Battle of Haddonfield Road), 25 November 1777, under the Marquis de Lafayette; and

WHEREAS, the Battle of Gloucester was partially fought on Captain Harrison's land; and

WHEREAS, the Hugg-Harrison-Glover House is an architecturally significant 18th century dwelling with a two-story addition dated 1764, and

- was investigated in 1937 by the Historic American Building Survey (NJ-380)
- has been found eligible for the National Register of Historic Places

WHEREAS, Captain Harrison's dwelling is thought to be the only surviving Camden County home of a Revolutionary War Officer; and

WHEREAS, the residents of Gloucester City desire to have the Hugg-Harrison-Glover House preserved as a monument to our Revolutionary War heritage; and

WHEREAS, the NJ Department of Transportation can preserve the Hugg-Harrison-Glover House by moving the house.
